

Now we can create our map of starting and end points by circling all the characters in the “my name is cipher” and begin solving. So when you see a circle that points up or right, just follow the above. This is what I get:

